Long drops suit against Toft, Toft: Taking undue credit

Antioch Atty. Robert J. Long has dismissed the lawsuit he had brought against Mayor Ray Toft in the name of the village. In his suit Long has sought to recover certain funds (approximately $500) allegedly improperly expended in a mailing of 7,000 letters supporting County Board candidates Jim Fields and Fred Popp in the primary election.

The mailing was sent out on the village's mailing permit. Toft claimed no knowledge of the mailing going out on the village permit and Biller Press, the agent who printed and mailed the endorsements, publicly shouldered the blame for the whole thing, saying it was a mistake.

In dismissing his suit, Long advised the presiding judge, Charles F. Scott, that since he filed the suit, Toft had paid the printing and mailing expenses that came to over $1,000.

In commenting on his suit and his decision to withdraw the action, Long noted that the case had accomplished his original goals of placing the costs of the mailing on the private party responsible, Toft, and further made it much more likely that this would not happen again.

Toft had no comment on Long's dropping of the suit at press time.

In a press release, Long commented that "since the filing of the suit, many changes have taken place in the village government, including the proposal and passing of the motion halving the mayor's salary and beginning the process toward the selection and hiring of a full time village administrator."

Toft said, "There has been talk of a full-time village administrator since before I was elected eight years ago. Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz has been acting as the administrator for many years. It is her plans to retire that have added impetus to plans to replace her with a full time administrator. Long's suit had nothing to do with plans for an administrator."

In a related development, Long reported that the stipulation before the State Board of Elections, placing Fields and Popp on a one year period of supervision, signed by him, would probably be finalized next week. Long claims that the stipulation of supervision recognizes that he (Long) was correct in his contention that Fields and Popp violated election laws by not reporting the cost of the mailing as campaign contributions.

Long is a Democratic candidate for the Lake County States Attorney's office. Toft had claimed that Long was using the suit to get publicity for his campaign instead of "buying ads like all the other politicians have to."

Antioch's holiday fete as hot as temperatures

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch's Fourth of July weekend celebration started and ended literally with a bang, with Stephanie Vogt, daughter of Ron and Jacque Vogt of Antioch crowned Miss Antioch in a crowded ACHS auditorium on Saturday and the fireworks display taking place on Sunday evening.

The fireworks at Williams Park went on after a decision was made on Saturday that the conditions for them were safe enough. The general drought conditions of the area had made the fireworks questionable until the last minute.

Although Antioch itself has no water problem at the present time, the decision was also made not to have the planned water fights on Sunday since surrounding communities do have a water problem.

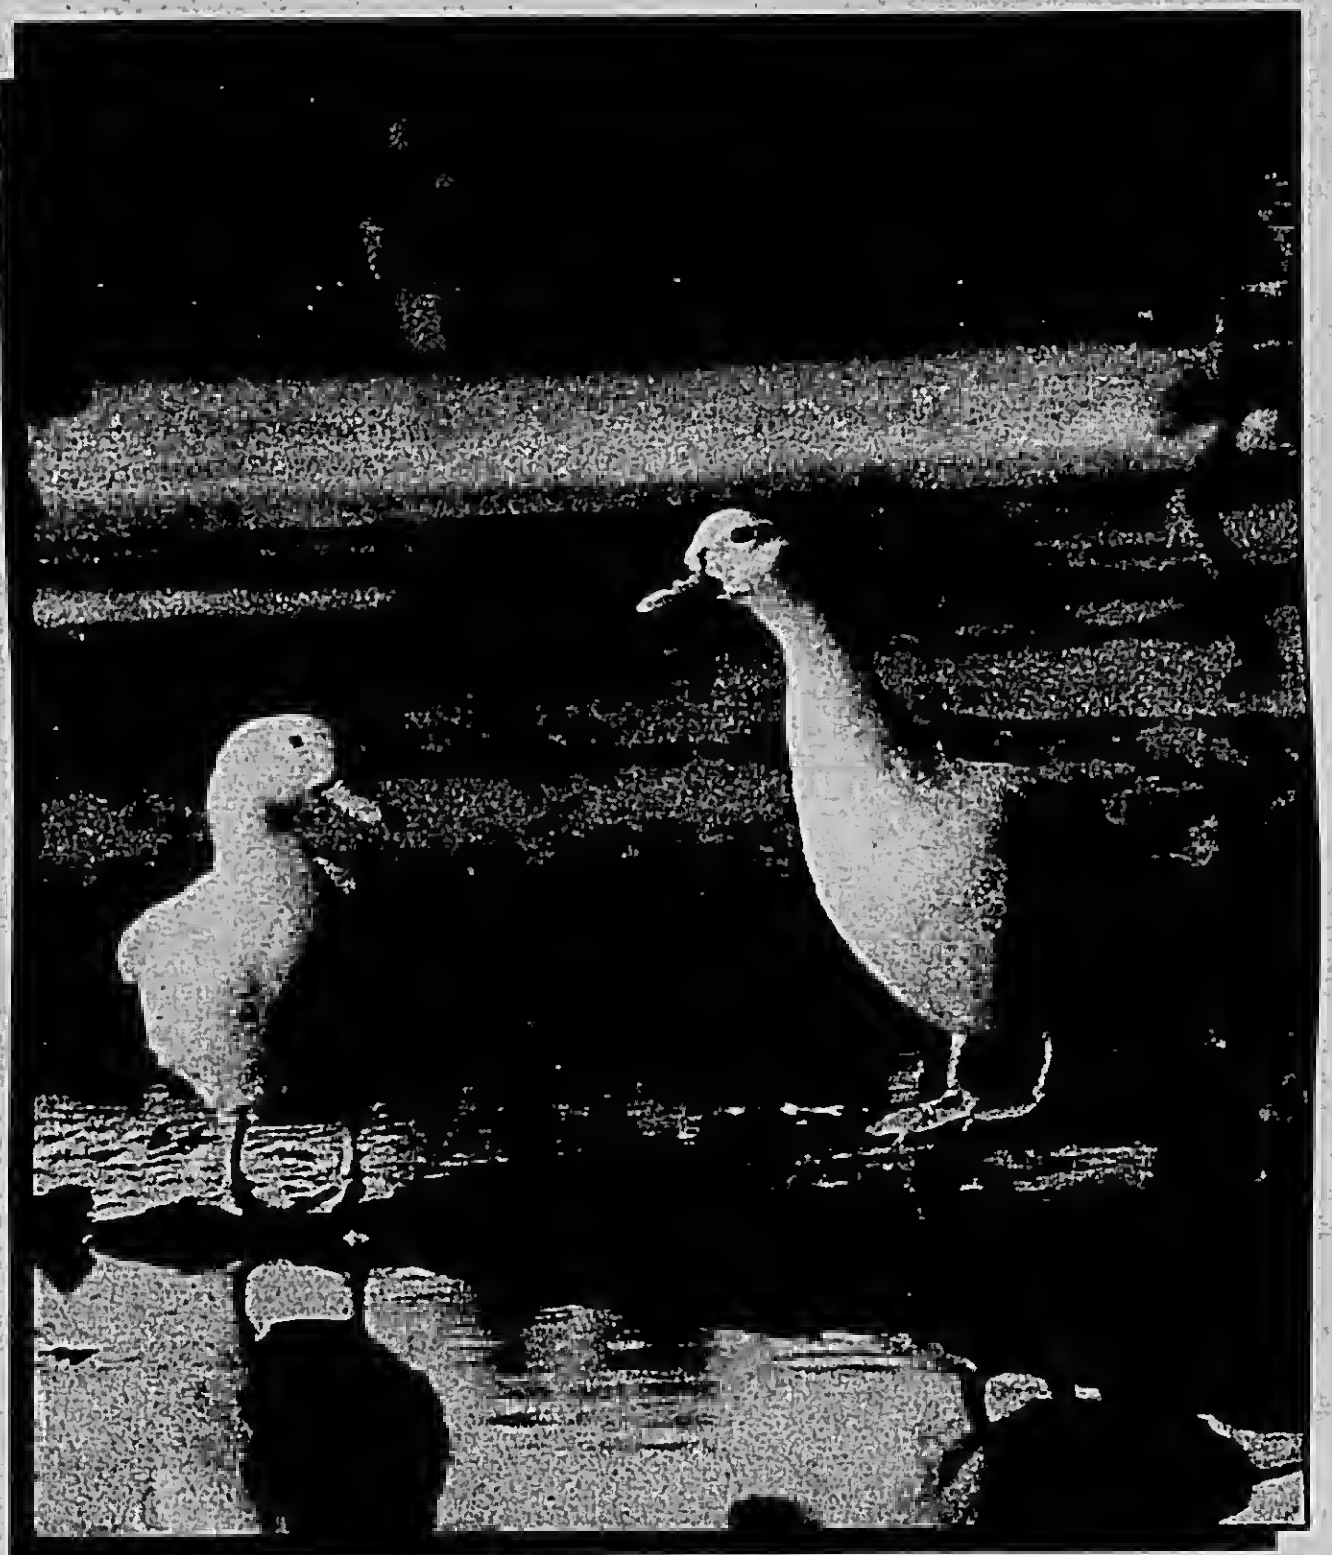

The official celebration started with the two "Miss" contests on Saturday. Emcee for the pageant was Ted Axton, president of the First National Bank of Antioch. Ann Kakacek and Theresa Weber of parks and recreation were the commentators.

Vogt, an Antioch High School senior, was crowned by last year's Miss Antioch, Melissa Swiatek.

Amber Dusak, seven-year-old daughter of Russ and Beth Dusak, won the Little Miss Antioch title.

The judges for the Miss Antioch contest were Dr. William Cash, Jr., Fox Lake Police Chief Joseph Semasko, Richard Stephenson of American International Hospital and the former Miss Wis. State University Merrilee Kwielford.

Judges for the little Miss contest were Lake County Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt, Dr. Susan Crawford, St. Luke's Medical Center and Michael Wurster.

Weather less than ducky

Even the waterfowl in Lake County are not 'quackers' enough to get too far from their pond with record high temperatures soaring above 100 degrees, making area residents head for any body of water available in cooling-off efforts. Those bodies of water are slowly shrinking with drought conditions that cause lake and river water levels to continue their decline. Some drought conditions have created havoc for fish and waterfowl species according to naturalists. Low water levels have caused ducks to bypass wetlands, which are their normal breeding grounds, and head for larger bodies of water. Photo by Lorry Bocke.

Two cyclists injured in border accident

A motorcycle driver and his passenger were injured in an accident with a car near the Wisconsin-Illinois border on Sunday, July 3.

Ron D. Evans, 37, driver of a Kawasaki cycle and his passenger, Kim K. Keefe, 33, both of Lake Villa, were injured while riding southbound on Rte. 45.

According to the Wis. State Patrol's records, a car driven by Shannon E. Wheelock, 24, Buffalo Grove, made a left turn in front of the cycle. The cycle hit the car.

Wheelock, who was not injured, was cited by the state patrol for failure to yield while making a left turn.

Landfill plan for year 2010 is being studied

Three alternatives for managing Lake County's solid waste over the next 20 years will be the topic of a Thursday, July 14, meeting of the Lake County Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency. "The three systems consist of varying combinations of recycling, composting, waste-to-energy and landfilling," said Bill Beadle, trustee of Round Lake Beach and chairman of the Agency's Technology Committee.

Costs, environmental considerations and institutional issues of each system will be discussed, compared and analyzed. The agency's engineers, recycling specialist, financial advisor and legal advisor will attend to answer questions concerning the system alternatives presented.

The presentation represents the end of a major phase of the agency's project, according to Verna Clayton, president of Buffalo Grove and chairman of the agency. "The agency has reviewed detailed reports concerning alternative technologies for handling and disposing of solid waste," Clayton said. "We are now at the point where we must combine the preferred technologies into a system which will best meet the needs of the county from now until the year 2010."

The agency is not expected to act on the report at the July meeting. Several trips by members of the board to state-of-the-art recycling, composting, waste-to-energy and landfilling facilities are planned in July and August. In this way, agency members will view first-hand the types of facilities and waste systems that could be part of the Lake County system, prior to selecting a single system for Lake County.

"A public forum to receive input on the system alternatives is planned for September," Clayton said. "We want to receive the widest possible public input prior to selecting a system for incorporation into the agency's final plan." The plan is due to be completed in January 1989.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Libertyville Township Hall, 359 Merrill Crt.

Village may join class suit

Lindenhurst will attempt to do something no Lake Villa Twp. residents have been able to do—get compensation from Commonwealth Edison Co. for a failed electrical unit.

The power supply for the village's computer system burned out following a 45-minute power surge on June 15. The excess current caused the unit to continue running even after the voltage returned to normal levels.

When initially contacted about the power supply, Com Ed said it would not compensate the city. This is also what it told more than 100 township residents, who called about appliances, sump pumps and televisions that burned out or needed repair.

It will cost Lindenhurst $310 to have the unit repaired.

The village board has agreed to contact Com Ed a second time about reimbursement. If the utility does not respond, the board agreed to join township residents organized as Citizens to Hold Com Ed Accountable.

Name costume company float first place

On Sunday, the parade, which was planned as a salute to Antioch's firemen on the department's 75th anniversary, starting at the high school ending at Williams Park, kicked-off the July 3-July 4 celebration. Parade judges were Kathy Smith, Garnet Carney and Laurel Dahl.

Storm Costumes won the best theme prize. St. Peters Church's Clown Club was judged the best of the parade, and the entry from the American Assn. of Retired People(AARP) was picked as the most beautiful.

A day of picnicking, swimming and games at the park ended with dancing to Ernie Levas in the Lions Club Pavilion.

Besides fireworks(to many to police) being setoff throughout the village, despite the fact that there is a law against it, Antioch had a quiet weekend as far as the police department was concerned.

Negotiations

Negotiations going on between representatives of the Antioch High School Board of Education and the high school's teachers' union are still in progress with no major agreements having been reached.

Goetzelman awarded Scouting's highest honor

Stephen William Goetzelman received the Eagle award, Scouting's highest honor, at an Eagle Court of Honor conducted at Antioch's United Methodist Church. Son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goetzelman, Steve is a junior at Antioch Community High School. He joined Cub Scouts in 1980, advanced to Webelos in 1982, and joined Antioch's Troop 92 in 1983.

He earned eight skill awards, 24 merit badges, nine special awards, and he served in three leadership positions. He participated in high adventure camping at the Boundary Waters Canoe Area last summer.

Next month he will be part of the Troop 92 expedition to the Philmont National Scout Ranch at Cimarron, New Mex.

Each Eagle candidate is required to plan and supervise a community service project which involves a minimum of 25 hours of the scout's time. For his project Goetzelman spent 37 hours planning, organizing and supervising the rehabilitation and extension of a nature trail behind the Antioch Upper Grade School.

The trail is adjacent to the bridge constructed by another Troop 92 Eagle Scout, Brian Clark. Goetzelman was assisted in this project by 11 other Scouts who worked a total of 117 hours.

The Eagle Court of Honor began with an invocation lead by Pastor Darrell English of the United Methodist Church. Acting Senior Patrol Leader Daniel Weston lead the Presentation of Colors.

In his opening remarks, master of ceremonies and Troop Committee Treas. Harold Clark compared the Eagle award to a doorway that leads to the future.

Eagle Scouts Matt and Phil Aschbacher, Phil Hettich, and Dave Weston alternated verses of the poem "Voice of the Eagles."

Assistant Scoutmaster Bernie Dost directed the Lighting of the Trail to Eagle ceremony during which the steps of the Scout Oath and the Scout Law were explained and represented by the lighting of candles.

Guest Speaker, Paul Hettich compared to trail to Eagle with the trails forged by the pioneers. He spoke of the relationship between America's values and scouting's values and that the Eagle award, like America's Independence Day, signifies a new beginning.

After Scoutmaster Weston read the Eagle Charge and Challenge, Lakes Dist. Chairman and Eagle Committee Chairman Ed Lahey formally presented the award to Goetzelman.

The new Eagle Scout then presented pins to his parents and expressed his gratitude to all who helped him achieve the award. Scoutmaster Weston responded with The Scoutmaster's Minute.

Pastor English concluded the ceremony with the benediction. Following the Court of Honor Troop 92 Women's Auxillary presented a delectable buffet dinner to all of the guests.

Skidmore's proposal will save Dist. 34 money

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch Grade School Supt. Don Skidmore proposed a new phone plan for the district which in the long run will save the district $2,650 per year plus.

The board of education has approved the plan which includes the purchase of new spirit 616 phone from A T & T for a total cost for the four schools of $278.97 per month. At the end of five years, the district will own the equipment and lines and also will have saved $4,930, said Skidmore. The savings of $2,650 per year will come after a maintenance contract of $138 per month for 12 months has been paid.

Skidmore said that the addition of the maintenance contracts cost to the total phone will cost the same as the district the same as it is now paying to rent the equipment.

In answer to the board's request that Skidmore accept a new three-year contract, the board approved a contract he presented to them which gives him a 7 percent raise to a yearly salary of $72,197.

Antioch Upper Grade School Principal Bill Herbst had asked Skidmore to propose that the board supply another one-half time teacher for AUGS, give merit step raises for another teacher and give their OK for the addition of either an instructional aide or teacher to supervise children that are disruptive in class in an structured instructional setting until they can be returned to class.

Skidmore did not recommend that the board supply the one-half time teacher and the board put the matter on hold until the amount of state aids coming to the district for the next school year can be determined.

The board did approve the merit raise and also the hiring of the instructional aide.

Skidmore told the board that the results of the SRA Achievement tests were on an overall basis about the same as last year.

He said that a tribute to the district's instructional staff was due because the score did not lower in spite of a more difficult test and an influx of a group of lower achievers.

Millburn's constuction plans are right on schedule: Smithey

The construction work at Millburn Grade School is on schedule.

That was the good news that Supt. Lee Smithey told the board of education at its last meeting.

Smithey explained that construction workers are under two deadlines: Aug. 28 for work in the old gymnasium and Jan. 1, 1989 for the new addition to be built in back of the school.

The district voters approved the $1.8 million bond issue. The project will include eight additional classrooms in order to meet further growth needs. The new addition will include a new and enlarged and updated learning resource center, a new band and chorus area and a new and larger art room and kindergarten and multi-purpose rooms.

In addition to the update on construction, Millburn's board considered many curriculum and personnel issues at its meeting.

Barbara Phillips was hired as a full-time coordinator of the gifted program to meet state guidelines which become effective in 1990 and hired Barbara Brown as vocal and band teacher.

In curriculum areas, the board agreed to expand the speech program to two full days and expanded the art program to provide for a twice weekly art program.

Smithey said the speech and art programs were expanded because more students are needed to be served.

In other business, the board employed Alarm Detection Systems to monitor the security system, received with regret the resignation of Kathy Papaleo as Chapter 1 reading teacher and swore in Jeffrey Zaaloudek as a board member to complete the vacancy created when board member Paul Eppner moved out of the country.

The board also heard reports from the administration on the progress to fill three vacancies; the development and completion of a teacher's working curriculum guide.

The next board meeting is scheduled for July 18. The board meets at 7 p.m.

Busy beavers building on pond should move

by CHRIS LAUBACH

Dam!, not the curse but the structure built by beavers, seems to be the issue facing residents off Highway 45 near Antioch. It seems that the drought has not diminished the activities of these water creatures.

According to Joe Hunley who owns some of the property where the beavers are presently constructing their dam, labeled the little creatures as "eager beavers".

Hunley is not sure how many beavers are in the pond but he said they are not new to the area. The beavers first came to the pond about four years ago, then stayed away for a year and now are living in the area again.

Hunley reported that no one ever sees the beavers gnawing through the trees but when morning comes trees litter the shoreline, so they must do their work at night.

There has been no real damage. Hunley said, "I do not want to kill them. I would just like to relocate them somewhere else." Hunley and his neighbor have called the Conservation Department to see if they will come and remove the beavers.

Miniature lumberjacks

Fallen trees on a private pond just off Highway 45 show just how busy beavers can be. One shoreline is littered with trees, gnawed through during the night.

LEG PAIN

When someone who runs develops lower leg pain, it may be a case of shin splint syndrome. The condition typically results from repetitive running on hard surfaces or forcible use of the foot flexores.

However, lower leg pain can have other causes even though the symptoms are similar. The podiatrist uses a variety of tests to diagnose the cause.

Shin splints are associated with increased tension of muscles of the lower leg on their attachments to the tibia. The strain on the muscles may come from faulty foot function-excessive rotating of the subtalar joint in the ankle, or abnormal heel contact.

Treatment may include orthotic shoe inserts, a compression sleeve that supports lower-leg muscles, anti-inflammatory drugs and physical therapy.

Center tracks down child abusers

Lake County Sheriff Clinton O. Grinnell has given high praise to the Lake County Children's Advocacy Center Program.

"I would like to enlist the support of the public and all Lake County municipalities to aid the Advocacy Center because of the large and growing problem of children sexual abuse in Lake County," Grinnell said.

In Lake County alone, nearly 3,000 children were reported as abused or neglected in 1987, almost four times the 1979 rate. This reflects national and statewide trends. In Illinois, more than 70,000 children were reported as abused or neglected, Grinnell said.

Sexual abuse cases, which are the prime focus of the new Children's Advocacy Center investigation team, account for the ever-increasing caseload. Last year, more than 400 children were reported as victims of sexual abuse with a known caretaker as the alleged perpetrator.

"As parents and responsible citizens we all must be aware of what is happening to our children; we must be alert to spot the signs of strange activity taking place in the neighborhood or at school or social activities," Grinnell said.

In order to appreciate the trauma that a child feels when reporting that she or he has been sexually abused, it is important to understand some factors regarding the child victim and the abuser:

First, the victim averages around nine years of age; one in four is five years old or under.

Second, the abuser is most often someone the victim knows, wishes to trust and looks to for love and protection. For example, as in the recent arrest of a former Lake Villa elementary school teacher, Alan B. Floor, 34, who was arrested on June 21, by the Advocacy Center investigative team and sheriff's investigators after a one-year intensive investigation. Floor, who was being held in the County Jail in lieu of $100,000 bond on eight counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse, was indicted on June 29, by the Lake County Grand Jury on nine counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse. Floor was released without posting a bond on his own recognizance and placed on intensive monitoring through the use of an electronic bracelet. Floor who confessed his crimes to the Advocacy Center investigators, was due back in court for arraignment on July 7.

The Lake County Children's Advocacy Center is located at 323 N. West St. in Waukegan. The center, which opened for business in Aug. 1987, is headed by a 12-member board of directors comprised of Lake County professionals and citizens, who have special skills and interest in child protection and care. The director is Laura Notson, on loan from the States' Attorney's office. Tracy Raasch, on loan from the Waukegan Police Dept., works in crisis intervention. Portia Wallace, juvenile investigator on loan from the sheriff's office, and Mark Pleasant, investigator for D.C.F.S., comprise the center's investigative team.

The Center is located in a converted turn-of-the-century residence with ample room for office space, conference room, play room, and "appropriate age" interview room and is open weekdays 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. After hours and weekends the investigators are on call.

"With the creation of the Advocacy Center, we will see more compassionate investigations, reflecting better coordination, improved training and a 'home-like' facility. The investigative team will produce more effective investigations, and this will be reflected in increased convictions and removal of the criminal abuser from society," Grinnell ended.

Wisconsinites are safer when wearing seat belts

Analysis of Wisconsin traffic accident reports since the seat belt law went into effect has found that people in passenger cars are three times more likely to be killed, and twice as likely to be severely injured, if they're not wearing seat belts.

Speaking Friday at the Governor's Highway

Safety Conference in Madison, Transp. Sec. Ronald R. Fiedler said that even in rear seats, where manufacturers usually provide only lap belts, unbelted occupants are more than twice as likely to be killed or severely injured than those who use the lap belts.

"Unfortunately, the study found that there are traffic crashes so severe that seat belts don't make any difference," Fiedler said. "But we also found that even in the most severe accidents, those involving a fatality, seat belts were a definite advantage."

"The study found that in fatal accidents, one in three of those wearing belts suffered fatal injuries, but one out of two of the unbelted occupants were killed," Fiedler said.

The study found that of 27,614 belted passengers involved in traffic crashes, 73, or 0.26 percent, were killed and 1,302 or 4.71 percent were severely injured. Of the 48,649 unbelted occupants, 367, or 0.75 percent were killed and 4,084 or 8.39 percent were severely injured.

"The difference between severe and fatal injuries of the two groups clearly show that people are much better off wearing belts," Fiedler said.

"Of the 4,696 belted rear-seat occupants, 12 or 0.26 percent were killed and 96 or 2.04 percent were injured," Fiedler said. "Comparable statistics for 7,487 unbelted rear-seat occupants found 28 deaths, or 0.37 percent and 357 severe injuries, or 4.77 percent of the total," he added.

"These numbers should put to rest any lingering doubts about the effectiveness of lap belts for rear seating positions," Fiedler said. "While the numbers show that front seat occupants, where lap/shoulder harnesses are common, are slightly better off, you're still better off with the rear-seat lap belt than without it," he said.

Fiedler said the study looked at accident reports for passenger cars since January 1988. Seat belt use has mandatory for passengers in front and rear seats since Dec. 1, 1987, but violators were issued warnings instead of citations during an initial educational period.

A pinched nerve in the front of the foot, usually between the third and fourth toes can be a torment, because the problem is deep in the foot there is usually no visible sign. There are however a number of clues that lead to a diagnosis of a neuroma.

1. Burning in the ball of the foot.
2. The feeling of walking on a stone or marble.
3. Numbness or tingling in the affected toes
4. A sudden sharp pain in the forefoot that makes one want to remove the shoe and rub the foot.
5. Increased frequency of these stabbing attacks of pain.
6. Inability to be comfortable in most any shoe
7. A pain that runs back through the foot and up the leg.
8. An attack that makes you quit golf after 8 or 9 holes.

If you have some of these symptoms you may have a benign tumor in your forefoot called a neuroma. It would be prudent to consult a podiatrist for a solution to your problem.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

LaPortas prove three into two can go

by BILL DOTSON

Remember the old saying "Three into two won't go"? Mike and Pat LaPorta are living proof that it is not necessarily so. Between the two of them, the Grayslake couple own and operate three separate businesses.

Besides overseeing the True Value hardware store on the corner of Center and Whitney Sts. in Grayslake, Mike practices dentistry full time at his office at 41 Hawley St. Meanwhile, his wife Pat operates their Reed-Hills Florist shop on Center St.

In a world where many couples have trouble coping with the pressures of maintaining just one or two full time occupations, how do the LaPortas manage to juggle three as effectively as they do?

"Theoretically, my work at the hardware store is supposed to be part-time," Mike says, "but a lot of work ends up getting done on the sofa at night."

He gets some help from their three children Laura, 18, Michael, 15, and David, 13, all of whom attend Grayslake High School and work with their father and the other employees at the hardware store. Pat has 10 people working with her at the flower shop. But how did the LaPortas come into the situation of running three businesses in the first place?

"When we first moved up here, we had no intention of getting into all this,"

Pat and Mike LaPorta

Mike said. "I came to practice dentistry in 1968. We didn't acquire the flower shop until 1982. And then we took over the hardware store in 1984."

"We opened the second flower shop in Libertyville in '83," Pat added.

Prior to their move to Grayslake, the LaPortas had been living in Chicago, where they met when Mike was teaching at the University of Illinois' College of Dentistry. Pat was working full time at the U. of I. Research and Education Hospital. They moved to Grayslake because they wanted to live in the country.

"I had always lived in the country and Mike had always lived in the city before this," Pat said.

Mike opened his dentistry practice upon moving to Grayslake, while Pat had another career for awhile before entering the floral business.

"I worked as a real estate agent for a couple of years," she said. "We've done a lot."

Relating the story of how they came into ownership of the True Value hardware store, Mike said, "We were standing in the flower shop one day looking at it through the window, commenting on how worn it looked and saying 'Isn't that a shame'."

"This had always been my hardware store," Mike said. "I was a loyal customer here for years before we bought it."

Marriott's Lincolnshire to add meeting space

Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort, Northern Illinois premier resort facility, will add 18,000 square feet of meeting, social and exhibit space, resort Gen. Mgr. Dick Feller has announced.

The addition of 18,000 square feet to the 400-room resort's existing 27,000 square feet will bring its total meeting space to 45,000 square feet, further enhancing the resort's position as Northern Illinois' largest meetings and conventions facility.

"The decision to expand is based on Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort's ongoing commitment to respond to the needs of the marketplace," said Feller.

"Lake County is becoming an increasingly popular meeting destination for both business and leisure travelers."

The expansion project will convert three of the resort's five tennis courts into 18,000 square feet of meeting space. This entails covering the tennis courts with portable astroturf when used for conventions and exhibitions. The courts will serve purposes, as they not only will be available for meetings, social functions and exhibitions, but also will continue to be used for tennis.

Baxter awards grants

The Baxter Foundation, headquartered in Deerfield, has announced that it has awarded a $1 million grant each to Harvard University, Johns Hopkins University, and Northwestern University to finance health-sciences research and teaching initiatives.

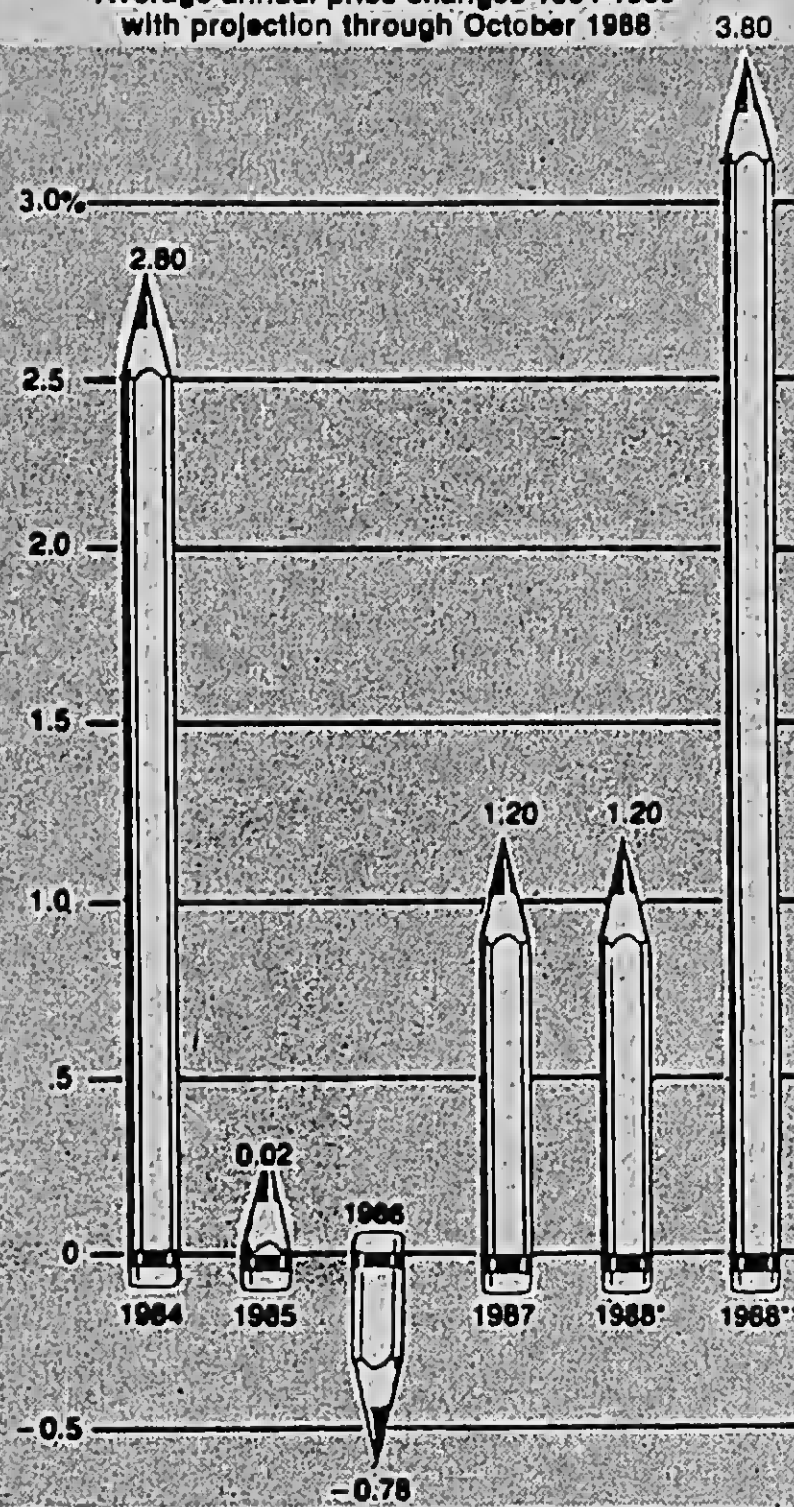

The Northwestern University Medical School in Chicago plans to use its grant to recruit and finance the work of four physician scientists, to be called "Baxter Faculty Scientists." They will teach and conduct research in biomedical engineering and immunology.

The grant to Harvard will be used by the institution's medical school in Boston to fund the work of researchers and doctoral students in immunology and virology. The scientists will focus on the prevention and treatment of certain diseases, including lymphoid and skin cancer and the viruses that cause herpes and AIDS.

Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, will use the grant to finance a three-year project through the Johns Hopkins Health System.

illustrating the couple's affinity for the store.

"So we talked about it and then we bought it and fixed the place up," Mike said.

When the LaPortas remodeled the business, they bought the building next door and combined the two to form the large store they have now.

An interesting side effect of the remodeling was the discovery of several old, original editions of newspapers from the year 1901, among others, which they found in the rafters, having been placed there presumably, according to Mike, to insulate the building. They store these with several old photos of the hardware store as it used to look many years ago.

What are some of the most valuable things they have gained from their experiences with these businesses?

"We've met an awful lot of people," Mike said. "There were people who were steady customers here that moved to Florida and they come back and say how much they like what we've done with the place."

"At the flower shop, we've got customers all over the country," Pat said. "When we bought it, I kept the name Reed-Hills Florist because it was so well established."

"Everything that we've been through has been a learning experience," Mike said. "We feel that we've really helped the town and we want to encourage it. We hope other people will try to do similar things for the town."

Advancing tourism right,

Ron Maravich, owner/operator of Gem Tours, welcomes Mike Michaelson, writer-photographer for Traveler's Check magazine, at start of coach tour of Lake County tourist attractions sponsored by Lake County Convention & Visitor's Bureau. Counterparts of Gem Tours, located in Groyslake, intend to include county in new tour offerings.

Tour yields new look for county tourism

More than 15 motor coach operators and travel writers enjoyed a sample of local tourist attractions when the Lake County Convention and Visitor's Bureau sponsored its first-ever county familiarization tour.

"Tourism is a big business in Lake County, and we wanted to expose travel writers and motor coach operators to the travel options in Lake County," said Gail Svendsen, executive director of the bureau.

The tour operators represented prospective midwest companies who organize and sell motorcoach group tours to the local area.

During the three-day familiarization tour, guests were lodged at the Ramada Inn, and travel was provided by the Gem Travel Center of Grayslake.

The group visited a number of county highlights, including the Greenbay Shipping Company Restaurant, Tempel Farms, Six Flags Great America, Harbor House at Waukegan Harbor, Genesee Theatre, Pier Club, Holiday Park Resort, Volo Bog, Wauconda Orchards, Long Grove Antique Village, Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort, Island Queen Paddle Boat, Holiday Inn of Gurnee, St. Sava Monastery, David Adler Cultural Center and Lambs Farm.

"It was well worth the trip," said Judy Richardson, Four Seasons Travel of Madison, Wis., one of the tour participants. "I'm looking forward to bringing motorcoach groups to the area."

Inside trader once lived in Buffalo Grove

What is called the second biggest insider stock trading case in the history of Wall Street involves a one-time resident of Buffalo Grove. Information he passed to a friend supposedly resulted in more than $19 million in profits.

Charged is Stephen Sui-Kuan Wang Jr., 24, who attended Buffalo Grove High School from 1978 to 1982, according to USA Today. There he played basketball and baseball, who was known for his reading habits and studies. Upon graduation he enrolled in the University of Illinois-Champaign. He was 11 credit hours from his degree when hired in 1986 by the Wall Street firm of Morgan Stanley & Co as a junior analyst. The $25,000 to $35,000 position did not pay much by Wall Street standards, but was highly regarded and reserved for the brightest of students.

Although he did not deal directly with much of the information he is charged with passing to a friend, he was picked much of it by listening to associates and reading inter-office correspondence. This was easily done through his job in the firm's leveraged-buyout and mergers and acquisitions departments.

Information he obtained was passed onto Fred C. Lee, who also used the name Chwan Hong Lee, 38, of Taiwan, who has international investments in stocks, real estate, importing, exporting and public utilities. He maintains a mansion in McLean, Va., outside Washington, D.C.

In exchange for a reported payment of $200,000 cash, Wang reportedly passed on information about upcoming stock activity in stocks of more than one dozen companies ranging from American Brands and Chi-Chi's to IC Industries, Kerr McGee Corp., Manpower Inc. and Outboard Marine Corp.

Lee reportedly used advance information about impending stock activity to purchase huge blocks of stocks or options. Later, when the deals were consummated or the stock rose to its highest price, he sold and profited the excess.

Among the three biggest transactions involved Utah Power & Light Co., which was the target of a takeover by the Public Service Co. of New Mexico, giving Lee an $840,000 profit; E.F. Hutton Inc., which was in a buyout situation by Commercial Credit Corp., netting Lee $1.2 million; and the Stop & Shop grocery chain on the East Coast, which was to be purchased by a Morgan client, giving Lee a $3 million profit.

Lee is said to have bought, sold and traded stock options in 25 different companies through 33 different accounts. He is in Taiwan is said he intends to remain there.

Wang is in seclusion in New York. The case is said to be second only to the an insider-trading scheme involving New York stock trader Ivan Boesky.

CLEAR opposes station

In a letter to the Lake County Board, Citizens of Lake County for Environmental Reform, (CLEAR) as expressed opposition to the siting of an Ace Disposal Co. garbage transfer station on 4.6 acres northeast of Rte. 176 at Herky's Drive, near Libertyville. Reasons given for the opposition are:

1. The prematurity of the application in view of the fact that the Lake County Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency (LCJASWPA) has not completed county-wide Plan for solid waste disposal.
2. The possible danger of increased traffic composed of massive garbage-hauling trucks near the entrance of Lambs Farm.
3. The added wear and tear on some roads which are already in need of repair.
4. The incompatibility with the surrounding area and the possible deleterious effect on property values.
5. The possibility of serving garbage disposal needs from outside the area.
6. The possible use of an existing transfer station by both dump owners and Waste Management to justify the need for their siting/expansion petitions in Fremont Township near Grayslake.

Exciting second opinion

Conventional wisdom in health care is to get a second opinion, or a third. The same thinking should apply to solving transportation problems.

The intriguing proposal to extend a double-track commuter rail line to Lake-Cook Rd. from Skokie—which would provide a viable commuting alternative for the burgeoning south Lake County population—was almost knocked out of the box by a $91-million initial cost study.

Now comes the findings of an independent consulting engineer pegging the project at $24 million, less than a third of the Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS). The chairman of NORTAN (North Suburban Mass Transit Dist.), Stanley Bristol, said the new cost study makes the plan "very reachable."

Bristol is so enthused that he says a name change is in order—from Skokie Swift to North Shore Swift. Well, maybe, but every angle of potential rail commuting is worth exploring simply to keep as many cars off our highways as possible. On the subject of second opinions, it might not be a bad idea to take another look at the potential of Wisconsin Central rail commuting north of Mundelein to serve Grayslake, Lake Villa-Lindenhurst and Antioch, which at this point has been pretty well written off by the experts.

NORTAN presented the Skokie Swift study to CATS for inclusion in CATS' 2010 Plan, a long-range regional public transportation master plan which extends to the year 2010. Plans and projects not included in the CATS plan have no chance of qualifying for federal or state capital funding.

NORTAN's action was supported by the North and Northwest Council of Mayors at their May meetings. The councils are on record as actively supporting placing the Skokie Swift service extension in the 2010 plan.

The North Suburban Mass Transit Dist. oversees the NORTAN operation that provides bus service to 28 north and northwest suburbs. The district is guided by trustees appointed by the 26 member communities.

Can't resist fireworks

You'd never know that fireworks are illegal in Illinois after all the July 4th noise. Except for sparklers, smoke bombs, smoke and glow worm pellets and certain trick noisemakers, fireworks—whether purchased out of state or bought through the mail—are banned by law.

A year ago, 390 fireworks injuries were recorded over the holiday. Damage inflicted by fireworks this past weekend still is being totaled. Injury records are kept by hospitals. Fireworks injuries treated by physicians in their offices or treated at home are unknown. So physical damage has to be enormous. Officialdom didn't invoke the ban on a whim.

Punishment for violation of the state ban is a Class B misdemeanor: Up to six months in jail and/or up to a $500 fine for each occurrence. Where fireworks displays are authorized by a municipality, a state permit is required on an application made by three adults who must post a $1,000 bond.

Enforcing the law is made all the more difficult by confusion over what is legal and what isn't—plus the fact far too many persons feel that shooting fireworks is a God-given right. One of these years, the confounded stuff used publicly will probably disappear. It usually takes fatal injuries or a maiming to bring people to their senses, unfortunately.

Transportation problems

Editor:

The reading of a recent article, "Plan Year 2005 Freeways, Highways", in the Lakeland Newspapers led me to write this letter.

The first thought is that we should not be waiting until 2005 for Rte. 53 to be completed. This expressway is needed now, and if built properly, recessed into the ground and bermed, no one should have a problem with its construction. The secondary roads that are leading north and northwest (Arlington Heights Rd., Long Grove Rd., Rte. 12, Rte. 83, Gilmer, Old McHenry, Quentin, Fairfield and Midlothian) are being jammed by traffic which is trying to go north. This traffic would stay on Rte. 53 if it existed, thus limiting the traffic on all the previous roads mentioned.

If Rte. 53 were built, we would not have to spend large sums of money upgrading the previously mentioned roads and inconvenience all the residents at the same time. By making Rte. 53 a tollway and building it now and not upgrading all the other roads leading north, the taxpayers would be way ahead with the money that could be saved.

The second issue is Rte. 22. This highway is the major east/west route of southern Lake County. Why is a highway that is a major feeder and intersection to an expressway (Rte. 94/294) not already four lanes? It is a joke, but not funny, with everyone you talk to that Lincolnshire can hold up Rte. 22 from becoming four lanes from the Tri-state tollway west. Rte. 22 needs to be made four lanes through Lincolnshire, Prairie View, Buffalo Grove and Long Grove. The development in Buffalo Grove along Rte. 22 is tremendous, and with everyone west of there (Long Grove, Hawthorn Woods, Kildeer and Lake Zurich) trying to get to the expressway (Rte. 94), Rte. 22 is an obvious bottleneck.

Development alternatives

Editor:

I am writing to comment on the recent recommendation of the Lake Zurich Planning Commission's subcommittee to deny an application to rezone certain beachfront property on Lake Zurich.

On May 17, 1988, Wayne Blume, chairman of the Lake Zurich Plan Commission, appointed Nick Tkachuk to head a subcommittee to review a proposed rezoning of Breezswald Park. Breezswald is lakefront property located off Old Rand Rd. The subcommittee also included Mr. Charles Crawford and Mr. Joseph Stepniewski. The rezoning is being sought by InterCare, Inc., in order to construct a massive, 200-bed nursing care facility.

I attended the subcommittee's June 15 public hearing along with many other concerned Lake Zurich residents. I would like to thank Messrs. Tkachuk, Crawford and Stepniewski for their recommendation that the Plan Commission deny InterCare's rezoning application. The citizens of Lake Zurich should be grateful that the Plan Commission includes members with a genuine concern for the well-being of our community. The subcommittee was very thorough. Not only did they review all documents filed from both the Lake Zurich residents and InterCare, Inc., but they also undertook their own investigation. This investigation raised additional legitimate concerns about InterCare's proposed facility. Those of us who attended the meeting were especially impressed by Mr. Tkachuk's

CLC president sees community colleges in important role

By BILL SCHROEDER

Try this quickie math quiz: Eighty-five percent of 10 is more than 10, less than 10 or need more information?

Dr. Daniel LaVista, the on-the-go president of College of Lake County says that 55 percent of a cross section of young people failed the above question in a national test.

As a member of the education profession, LaVista admits that the survey result is dismal and a sad commentary on American public education. On the bright side — and LaVista is an upbeat guy — the CLC leader sees community colleges playing an increasingly important role in the future of education.

"Look at economics and demographics," points out Dr. Dan. He says with college getting more costly all the time and the changing mix of the U.S. population with more Americans being home oriented (less college-age kids), community colleges will be called upon to provide higher education and advanced training.

"We'll be ready," LaVista exclaimed with a grin. "We've got excellent faculties and the facilities," commented LaVista, who was speaking not only for CLC but community college elsewhere as his reputation and involvement in the nation scene broadens.

More and more we see Dr. LaVista becoming a moving force in Lake County. LaVista is a case of the right man being in the right place at the right time.

ALWAYS WORKING—Dist. 4 County Board Rep. Norman Geary has one over-riding goal in mind—winning an election on a date in December. That's when a new chairman of the Lake County Board will be elected and Geary is working hard to become the next chairman. If the vote was held today, Geary would be elected 13-12. County Board political alliances are pretty fragile, so Geary isn't lessening efforts to corral more support. He expects to have a couple more votes by the beginning of fall as a cushion. A shift of one vote is significant. Right now both Geary supporters and foes are concerned about the health of Dist. 1 Rep. Helen Belmont Amendolla, who is due for a battery of tests to find out why she's not feeling well.

TOO MANY DEER—Forest Preserve commissioners are tip-toeing into a touchy subject—the growing deer population. A controlled shooting of deer in Ryerson Woods between Riverwoods and Lincolnshire has been suggested as a method to thin out the pesky deer. Hungry deer are eating everything in sight including protected plants and other foliage that provides cover for small animals.

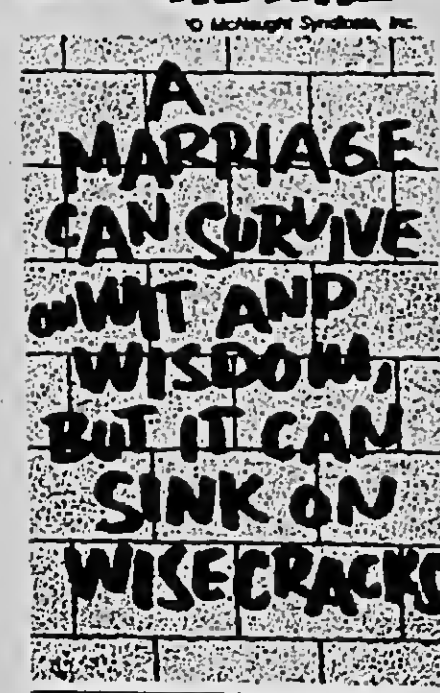

Dist. 6 County Board Rep. Gerald Beyer said that a decision will have to be made by September. He said it's going to take a full scale public relations program to deal with the problem. Ryerson Woods can support under natural conditions a herd of around 70. The herd now numbers about 125. A good many of the Ryerson deer are expected to starve this winter if action isn't taken.

Ah, life in the 'burbs never is easy.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—It won't be long now. College days are beckoning for Bob. He completed registration details at Purdue on an overnight trip with his mom and they got a peek at his room. They agreed it resembles an oversized closet. That's college life. Reservations were made for Parent's Weekend in September and planning has begun for a reunion at the Illinois-Purdue football game in October. Pop is wondering how he'll handle that one. Any ideas?

struction of this massive structure would ruin unique lakefront property, destroy the character of the neighborhood and further congest Old Rand Rd.

I have no quarrel with the importance and need for nursing care facilities in Lake County. However, these facilities need not be at the expense of destroying a neighborhood and ruining lakefront property. There are far better alternatives to InterCare's proposal.

Water, a precious commodity

Editor:

We, who are accustomed to our own wells for our water supply, have come to realize that our wells could run dry during a drought. With the increase of new homes with new landscaping in rural areas, the threat of dry wells has increased. This makes it especially important for all of us to conserve water.

At home we are careful with water in the bathroom, kitchen, and garden. We have always washed our cars at a carwash and now take our laundry to the laundromat, which uses lake water, to save water for our vegetables and flowers.

It will take a lot of rain to refill our wells. Now is the time to value our water by conserving, so that there will be enough for all this summer.

careful and thoughtful review of the proposed rezoning. Thus, it is our hope that the subcommittee's recommendation will be accepted by the other members of the Lake Zurich Plan Commission, the Community Development Board and the Village Board of Trustees.

As a concerned citizen, I am one of many Lake Zurich residents challenging InterCare's rezoning application. InterCare proposes to erect a huge skilled care facility that would result in the destruction of 85 trees, include 175 rooms, 87 parking spaces and 200 beds. ## Politically speaking . . .

by Joseph Soulak

In law enforcement everyone knows everyone else. Take the two declared candidates for Lake County sheriff. Republican Clinton "Clint" Grinnell, the current office holder, and Democratic-standard bearer John "Jack" Hoff, have known each other for years. Their relationship goes back to the days when Grinnell was police chief in Libertyville and Hoff was on the Waukegan police force where his father and brother made the family name synonymous with this profession.

"I know Clint," Hoff says matter of factly. "He's a grand old boy. But I think he'd rather continue in his former job as chief deputy than be sheriff," he said of plans to retire the recently-appointed Republican sheriff.

Hoff isn't the first in his family to try for the golden political ring. His father, Clarence "Cal," ran for the same job in the 1950 primary. That's when the family was Republican through and through. He didn't make it. But Walter Atkinson became another in a long succession of GOP sheriffs. Now, son Jack is going to try to do it as a Democrat.

Talking about the sheriff's race, a campaign mailing by the Clint Grinnell for Sheriff committee has some people scratching their heads. They are wondering if Grinnell or the late Robert "Mickey" Babeox are running.

Pictured on the envelope in which the literature is mailed is a rather nice portrait of the incumbent. It makes him look as young as his 55 years. Obtrusively looking over his shoulder is the "ghost" of the popular former sheriff. Which has caused a few people to ask who is running for the job this time around.

Most people think Grinnell is capable and strong enough to run on his own merits—and win.

Things could get interesting in the 10th Congressional Dist. race this year. That's where John Porter, the darling of the North Shore, is trying to fill the shoes of now-retired Robert McClory. But somebody is trying hard to retire him, too.

That somebody is Gene Friedman of Highland Park, Porter's back yard. The Democrat bills himself as the man "now appearing everywhere." He will show up anywhere and almost anytime for those willing to get more than a few people together and listen. In past weeks he has been cultivating the grass roots at festivals in Libertyville, Mundelein, Long Grove and Wheeling plus a few neighborhood coffees. Those who would like to see or hear this candidate, call his newly-activated 24-hour hotline at (312) 561-0458 and book him or get on his mailing list.

Another scandal is brewing in the Lake County Courthouse. The dailies have "just touched the tip of the iceberg in reporting it," says an insider.

The scandal involves three bank accounts in the office of Court Services, an agency created in 1984 to oversee some 2,250 adults on probation and lots more on bond awaiting trial. It seems the first and only director of this new agency, George Gallagher of Grayslake, didn't tell county auditors about them. So he was the ideal boss and used money from the accounts to treat staffers to lunches, flowers, gave them plaques, had parties for the staff and for other morale-boosting purposes. At least, that is what is known so far.

The Lake County State's Attorney's office is investigating. "There's more scandal that just the two slush funds," a court house source said. "It will come out soon. This is something that is a lot deeper."

Asked how this could happen to a supposedly bright guy like Gallagher, who spent 17.5 years in the office, another person said: "It was a power thing, an ego trip. It went to his head," is the way associates describe what happened.

Throughout it all the bearded ex-boss has maintained his moral and criminal innocence.

Last week's item about two 30-year employees of the Lake County Treasurer's office may have been a bit misleading. It said the two have "about 10 years to go before they can qualify for a full pension," in speaking of Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson and his deputy, Mitchell Stanton.

If the truth be known, they qualify right now, but at reduced benefits. Both have indicated they will stick around up to 10 years more. They like the job that much. With their kind of dedication and experience, Lake County is much better served. stars....bullets.

Only one attending

Editor:

On June 28, the Anti-Pornography Campaign of Lake County held a meeting for those wanting to become involved in ridding our communities of pornographic materials by becoming informed of the dangers of pornography.

I have come to realize that pornography is not just pictures of naked men and women. That it just isn't a person's right to buy and use this material, not when it becomes addicting and in turn is used against the rights of others.

Our children are targets, our families are in jeopardy. The multi-billion dollar pornography industry feeds off of these porn addicts. They need more perverse things to get them satisfied, so the producers of pornography give it to them. They even teach them techniques of stimulation that have been fatal to themselves.

I wrote this letter out of concern and of disbelief. Concerned greatly for my family and my children. Out of disbelief that I was the only person at that meeting.

I cannot be the only parent that wants to protect their children. No one else is going to! Yes, it will take time out of our busy schedules. Yes, it will take commitment. But aren't our children worth it?

There will be two more meetings held on July 15. Two convenient times, one in the morning at 10 a.m., and one in the evening at 7:30 p.m. at Avon Township Center on Washington St. just west of Hainesville Road in Round Lake Park.

Insignificant part

Editor:

One cannot help but comment on your front page article as to F.A.P. 432/Rte. 53 extended. One must question how reporters can take an insignificant part of the overall highway plan for Lake County and make it headlines.

Of the four alternative planning models developed, Rte. 53 was only in one of the four. In the same paper, hidden in the paper (not front page), a more important article on highway needs was written. That article was telling the sad facts as to funding and real highway needs in Illinois.

Facts are noted that 4,400 miles of EXISTING roads and 1,000 bridges are presently in need of repair. Lake County has its share of those problems.

Why is it that the bandwagon for public officials and the press to jump on is always the grand project of big and new instead of taking care of business—in this case, 4,400 miles of roads and 1,000 bridges? We do not have the funds to handle them, but we always talk and waste taxpayers' funds on studies for our bigger toys. Even if you can fund the big toy, how are you to use it when the roads to it are paved in potholes?

Do the general public a favor and report up front on the real priority issues as to highways, existing conditions and needs for the future instead of making the public think that one new road will solve all of their problems—when, in effect, it shall use all of the funds and leave them in a continuous traffic jam when going for groceries and breaking eggs all the way home.

Monster tax hike

Editor:

Presently in Island Lake the expense of garbage pickup is paid by the village 100% (that is to say the taxpayers). The Trustees are discussing the possibility of the Village refusing to pay for garbage pickup any longer, thus forcing us, the taxpayers, to pay for the service, in addition, to our taxes.

I feel that this is nothing more than a monster tax increase! If they do this we will all have to pay almost $100 a year more and they will go around claiming that they did not raise taxes.

Don't they realize that we have many seniors in Island Lake that are already grasping at straws in order to pay the last school tax increase? Don't they realize that there will be many (just look in any unincorporated area) who will not pay for the service and will, instead, fly dump all over the area? Last of all, don't they realize that they come up for reelection in April of '89 and they will be voted out?

Panel to discuss schools

Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County) of the 32nd Dist. has been named to the Governor's Education Summit, a group established to study education reform, especially compromises on Chicago school reforms.

"It's evident the situation in the Chicago schools is going to be the pivotal factor in negotiations for education reforms and a possible tax increase," Schaffer said. "I don't see a tax increase being considered without a major overhaul of Chicago's school system."

The members of the summit will review all the plans that have been proposed to improve the Chicago schools, according to Schaffer. One such proposal would reorganize the Chicago school system and return control to parents and local taxpayers. The giant school system would be split into 20 separate districts that would operate like other districts in the state and school boards elected rather than appointed.

The summit consists of three Senate members and three House members from each party. Deputy Gov. Jim Reilly heads the panel.

Lake Villa meetings

Regular meetings of the Lake Villa village board are held the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at 8 p.m. in the village hall, 65 Cedar Ave. Committee meetings are scheduled as needed on alternate Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Joyce Frayer encourages all interested persons to attend.

NIMC enacts smoking limits policy on hospital grounds

Northern Illinois Medical Center, McHenry, has implemented a No Smoking policy. Smoking will be permitted only in the west end of the cafeteria while the remainder of the medical center buildings, on and off site, will become smoke-free.

According to NIMC President Paul Laudick, this decision was made on the basis that the medical center, as a health care provider, should take a leadership position on the issue of smoking. "Many industries and companies have already gone to a smoke-free environment," Laudick says. "Although achieving a smokeless workplace is not easy, we believe that with planning, communication, feedback, and support, we can reach our goal."

The smoking policy applies to everyone including: all staff, board members, physicians, auxiliaries, volunteers, and visitors. The decision was reached following input and research by representatives from every segment of the corporate family, many of whom are smokers. In employee surveys, 76 percent agreed that smoking is a problem at NIMC.

In terms of health, the new policy will have a positive effect on the comfort and welfare of the patients.

In an effort to prepare for this change, the education department at NIMC has for several months offered free programs to employees in an attempt to help them quit smoking. Of the participants, 50 percent of them have quit successfully and been able to stop smoking.

The Continentals, an internationally recognized Christian musical group, will present an exciting concert of inspirational and traditional Christian music on Wednesday, July 13, at 7 p.m. at Village Church of Lincolnshire, 201 N. Riverwoods Rd. in Lincolnshire.

Featuring 24 vocalists and a 10-piece orchestra, the Continentals' two-part program will focus on themes of devotion, inspiration and worship, integrating a variety of popular

Christian songs, hymn medleys and gospel music arrangements.

Cam Floria, Continentals' president and producer of the program, promises that it is a concert that will appeal to audiences of all ages "in both music and content."

"We've divided the program into two parts," he explained. "The first follows the theme 'Run to Win', and our songs are arranged to encourage people to persevere. We want to encourage adults to stay in the race, hang in there, see it to the finish. While to young people, we want to say 'run for Jesus and run to win."

Now in their 21st year of existence, Continental Singers and Orchestra will send 11 tours to perform in all 50 states and approximately 32 countries throughout the world. Each tour is made up of young people from all over the United States. They also oversee international groups located in eastern Europe, Holland, England, Singapore, Latin America and Australia.

For those interested in touring with the Continentals as vocalists, instrumentalists or technicians, auditions will be held after the concert.

The 11th annual Lake Geneva Classic Car Rally Tour, "According to Hoyle", to benefit children's cancer research, is planned for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 24 and 25 in Lake Geneva, Wis.

The unusual event is sponsored by the Corinne Kreissl Memorial Foundation, Inc., with the cooperation of the American Cancer Society, Geneva Lake Area Chamber of Commerce, Lake Geneva Rotary Club and Walworth County CB Radio Club and Americana Lake Geneva Resort.

Again, as last year, a two-day event is planned. Participants can tour around Geneva Lake on Saturday or Sunday, stopping in five zones around the lake at participating stops.

Last year's event brought over 650 classic, antique and special interest vehicles and raised $17,000 for the American Cancer Society.

Phantom Vettes take tour of pyramid, County

The Phantom Vettes, Grayslake, lined up at Trudy and Mike Komos' for the club picture, and then with temperatures at 90 degrees plus, T-tops and tops down, the Corvettes were ready to roll.

Heading north on Milwaukee Ave. towards quaint Libertyville, to Hunt Club Rd. and the Wisconsin border. Along the way the caravan of Corvettes was not interrupted by any other vehicles. Following Wadsworth to Dilley's Rd., the Corvettes came across Illinois' own Gold Pyramid House.

The Gold Pyramid House, built by Jim Onan, is a duplicate of the Great Pyramid of Cheops in Egypt. The 12,000-sq.-ft. exterior is completely covered with 24-karat gold.

The gates to the Gold Pyramid House were locked, due to the fact that the touring season had yet to begin. However, Onan's son spotted the Vettes admiring the pyramid.

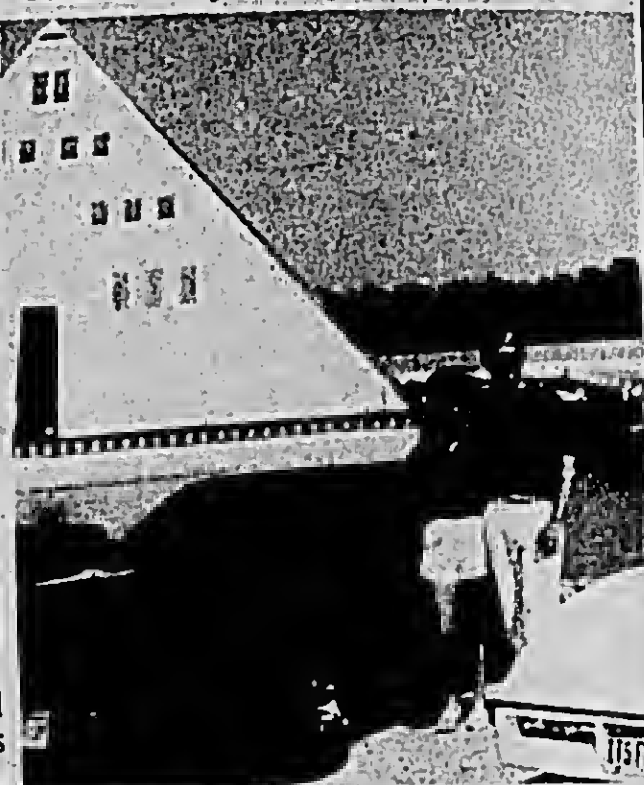

Onan, who also owns a charcoal metallic Corvette, opened the gates so the club members could enter. More pictures were taken as the Corvettes lined up in front of the pyramid, standing 55 feet above its reflection in a 20-foot deep moat.

Leaving the pyramid, the club went to McDonald's for a cool drink. There was a slight delay to the departure because the Phantom Vettes' newest member had to finish his bottle. John Gallagher is only one month old and a slow drinker.

Heroism costly

Danna Bell, acknowledged heroine who saved a baby during a March Mundelein apartment fire, has found that all the accolades for her heroism don't pay her $40,000 in doctor bills. Bell burned her feet, hands and face while removing Nikki Arends, 1, from her burning crib. The infant died later in the hospital. Although civic groups have managed to raise $10,000 through benefits and fundraisers, she still has $30,000 due in unpaid medical bills. She has been paid many honors for her heroism. Just last month, Bell was given the Citizen's Award by the North Shore Division of the Ill. Police Assn.

O'Connell makes it hole-in-1

Rick O'Connell, Grayslake, carded a double eagle hole-in-one on the 280-yard, 16th hole at the Grand Rapids, Mich., Elks Country Club. This was the first recorded ace on this hole in the 63-year history of the club.

O'Connell used a driver on the dog leg right par four during the first round of the annual member-guest tournament. Playing partners witnessing the hole-in-one were his brother, Tom O'Connell, Chet Murawski and Ron Williams.

O'Connell is the fifth member of his family to score an ace. His father, Tom, Sr., has carded three—while brother, Tom, Jr., has had two holes-in-one. His mother, Floss, and sister Mary have recorded one each.

Murphy's 'Coming To America' is refreshing change of pace

✓ Yes ★ ★ ★

by BILL DOTSON

THERE IS GOOD NEWS for Eddie Murphy fans- it appears he is back on track again with his newest film "Coming to America."

I have to admit I was not very interested in seeing it at first, having been less than thrilled with some of Murphy's recent work, but "Coming to America" was, for this reviewer, a pleasant surprise, largely because the character he plays here is a real departure from the usual.

I can really enjoy watching Murphy, depending entirely on the material he has to work with. He scored two consecutive home runs on his first two times at bat with "48 Hrs." and then "Trading Places", assisted by two great scripts that showcased his talents, as well as two great co-stars (Nick Nolte, Dan Aykroyd) and two superstar directors (Walter Hill, John Landis).

BUT THEN THINGS WENT DOWNHILL with "that thing he was in with Dudley Moore" ("Best Defense") and I realize I'm in a minority here, but I was not a big fan of either of the "Beverly Hills Cop" movies.

By this time, it seemed to have gotten to the point that since he was such a superstar, all he had to do was just "be" Eddie Murphy on screen, playing the same basic streetwise character who was much smarter than everyone around him.

HIS RECENT EFFORT "The Golden Child" continued that tradition. It took that same worldly New York guy and surrounded him with a whimsical story.

The thing that makes "Coming To America" work better, at least for this reviewer, is that it does just the opposite. The effect is very refreshing.

HERE, MURPHY PLAYS PRINCE AKEEM, a well-mannered, elegant, charming monarch who is somewhat naive. Akeem comes to America in search of just the right woman and decides to look in what sounds like the ideal place- Queens, New York.

Also worthy of mention here is comedian/actor Arsenio Hall, who plays Akeem's loyal and trusted companion. Hall's comedic talents have been showcased in the past on Fox's "The Late Show", and here they keep him from being eclipsed by Murphy.

"COMING TO AMERICA" IS THE FIRST film in quite awhile where Murphy seems to be doing more than being Murphy- he makes Prince Akeem a very likable character and as a result, makes "Coming to America" a very likable movie.

'Coming' brings a new Eddie Murphy to screen

✓ Yes ★ ★ ★

by GLORIA DAVIS

Eddie Murphy might just have proven that there is a reason that "I'm too rich to get married," with the switcheroo he pulls in "Coming To America."

IN THIS ONE Murphy really does an acting job, reverting back to the Murphy of "Trading Places," and leaving, the strut, the brash mouth and the irritating laugh behind, at least for awhile.

Murphy gives a rather sensitive portrayal as Prince Akeem of the African kingdom of Zamunda who comes to Queens, N. Y. to find himself a queen who loves him for himself.

THE REAL LAUGHS come when Murphy reverts back to his night club days and comes up with cameos of different people, sort of a cross section of Black America.

Arsenio Hall, his companion on the queen quest, comes up with a portrayal of a jazzy preacher that is a riot.

IT IS HARD to remember that the tender janitor Murphy becomes to be near his love, the daughter of a fast food king, is the same foul-mouthed swaggering Murphy who did "Raw."

When the two Africans stumble into the Black Awareness pageant and Akeem falls in love at first sight with Shari Headley, the laughs turn into rib-busters.

Although we liked the "new" Murphy, the plot of "Coming To America" leaves a lot to be desired. Besides being slightly banal, it is a bit too predictable. This is a case where the writers and director John Landis seem to have taken the quicker easy way out instead delving further and coming up with a story with more substance to match Murphy's emoting.

HALL HEADS a terrific supporting cast that includes James Earl Jones and John Amos. The leading lady, Headley, turns in an acceptable performance that probably could have been handled better by at least a dozen more experienced actresses.

We were surprised we liked Hall since we found him an irritating name dropper when he was constantly dropping Murphy's name during his recent tv series.

THIS IS A PIC that's easy to take, one that is hard to dislike, but so was Jimmy Carter and everyone knows what happened there. Jimmy who?

If Murphy proceeds with the new him, his performance in "Coming" will be memorable, but the picture itself will not be a hard one to forget.

New Eddie Murphy

Comedian Eddie Murphy takes on different role of Prince Akeem in 'Coming To America,' flick that just opened across country.

Salmon will be running at Racine

Just over the Wisconsin border, east of I-94, is Racine. This year it boasts a super new harbor in use for its first full season. Added to the 921 berth, pleasure craft slip space is Festival Park, a 110 acre recreational complex, said to be the largest on Lake Michigan. Included is a 120 by 60 foot ice rink and a 29,000 square foot festival hall designed for community or convention useage, including ethnic festivals, the arts, drama and business displays.

In past years we visited and competed in Racine's Salmon-A-Rama festival, scheduled this year for July 16-24. Last year's competition produced 8,987 fish during the nine day public event. This totalled an amazing record breaking 43.5 tons of fish.

There were 5,100 registered anglers from 30 states competing during the contest and that ranks among the finest mix of outdoors and tourism.

The big fish, a 26.4 lb. chinook, was caught by a lady from Pine City, Minn. It won her $16,000 in prizes.

Three of the top four winners were ladies and nearly 300,000 people visited the festivities. 1988 will be the 14th year for this Salmon-A-Rama festival.

We toured Racine's waterfront on Celebration, a new 150 passenger pleasure yacht which offers a variety of cruises for visitors, including sit-down meals, pure scenic, or whole ship charter. Captain Herb Peterson says his home address is wherever the boat goes.

Celebration was born in LaCrosse, Wis. and her maiden voyage occurred during excessive storm winds which confirmed her sturdiness. Due to her size, they had to add water to the ship's hull to lower it five additional inches to allow access under the bridge at Lemont, Ill. while running from LaCrosse to Racine.

Celebration's sleek hull lines and magnificent stainless steel ceilings of the main deck dining area, make her look like a lady. The captain indicated she may offer a trip further south once Racine harbor is winterbound.

Also new in Racine is Carlin Smittle, newly arrived executive director of their visitor bureau. With a lot of Missouri experience behind him, he will add new promotional facets to Racine's tourism attractions. The tourism office may be reached by calling (414)634-3293. Located at 345 Main St. Racine, Wis. 53403, they will send detailed area information on request.

Lest you forget, Racine was the home of William Horlick who created the first malted milk shake there in 1883. It is also known for Frank Lloyd Wright architecture and is headquarters for the internationally famous Johnson Wax Company.

Illinois Beach State Park and Lodge, at Zion, reopened its concessions, restaurant and lodge facilities this month. The resort and conference area has 106 guest rooms, health spa and indoor pool.

It was closed for several months. For added information or reservation resources contact the Chicago office of Illinois Conservation at (312)917-2070.

In addition to popular lakefront camping, this is the only Illinois area that offers sand dunes and a natural beach, with salmon fishing and the big city nearby.

Fair's talent contest search for entries of all ages

Anyone who is a closet comedian, an accomplished pianist, a terrific tap-dancer, or anyone who has talent, or just thinks they do, is invited to participate in the Lake County Fair Amateur Talent Contest, at 7:30 p.m. on July 28, 29 and 30 on the Main Stage of the fairgrounds, Rte. 120 and Rte. 45 in Grayslake.

Both solo and group entries are accepted and any type of talent is welcome. Acts are limited to five minutes of set-up time and five minutes of performance time.

"This is always one of the most entertaining events at the fair," said Mary Gunia, Lake County Fair organizer. "not everyone is an award winner, but everyone, including the audience, has a lot of fun."

Antique show, sale, set

A large variety of antique jewelry, furniture, glassware and other fine collectibles will be displayed for sale on Sunday, July 17, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at The Lambs Antique Show and Sale. Lambs Farm is located at the intersection of I-94 and Rte. 176 Libertyville.

Several dealers from throughout the midwest will exhibit their antique treasures. Dealers interested in exhibiting their collections can do so by contacting Lynn Duenow at (312) 433-2502.

Visitors will be entertained by the Libertyville Village Band who will perform during the antique show and sale. Admission to the show is $2, kids 12 and under free. Parking is free. Proceeds from the show will benefit The Lambs, a non-profit vocational and residential facility for mentally retarded adults.

All of The Lambs Country Shops will be open that day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The public is welcome to browse through the pet shop, the Silk Screen Card and Gift Shop, the Country Store and Bakery Nook, the Ice Cream Parlour and Pastry Shop and the Thrift Shop. Children will enjoy the Children's Farmyard and Petting Zoo, where they can pet and feed the animals, and ride ponies.

The whole family can dine at the Lambs Country Inn Restaurant which serves a Champagne Brunch from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., followed by dinner from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

For more information about Lambs' Country Shops or year 'round special events, phone (312) 362-6774.

Participants will compete in three age categories: junior, 14 year old and younger on Thursday, July 28; senior, 15-21 years old on Friday, July 29; and adult, 22 years and older on Saturday, July 30. Ages are calculated as of Nov. 30. Groups will compete in the category of the oldest group member.

Acts will be judged on entertainment value, ability, audience contact, costuming/appearance, and suitability/originality.

A first place finish will earn the act $100 with $75 for second, $50 for third, $25 for fourth and $20 for each finalist. The first place winners in the junior and senior divisions will represent Lake County in January at the state competition in Springfield.

Preliminary competition for the junior division will be held at 1 p.m. on Saturday, July 23. More preliminaries will be held on Sunday, July 24 with seniors at 1 p.m. and adults at 4 p.m.

Acts may register up to the day of the preliminary competition. The top 10 acts from each category will compete during the fair.

The 60th Annual Lake County Fair is scheduled for July 27-31 at the Lake County Fairgrounds. General admission is $4 per day and children under 12 free. Senior citizen admission is $2 on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Parking and grandstand seating is free.

For additional information and entry forms for the Lake County Fair Amateur Talent Contest, call contest director John Lynn at (312) 566-6594.

Fundraiser successful

The NutraSweet Classic, held at Temper Lakes Golf Club in Hawthorn Woods, raised $160,000 for diabetes research funded by the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

The day-long golf and tennis event included two 18-hole best-ball golf tournaments and a round-robin doubles tennis competition. The morning golf tourney was won by a vesome captained by former NFL running back Jim Grabowski. That group finished at 17 under par. The afternoon tournament was won by a vesome captained by former blackhawk Jim Pappin. That group finished at 16 under par.

"Once again, we would like to thank the NutraSweet Company for underwriting this fantastic event. This is the most money ever raised at a Chicagoland charity golf event and we are grateful to everyone who participated," Joan Beaubaire, president, Juvenile Diabetes Foundation International, said.

Diabetes, which afflicts nearly 12 million Americans, is the third leading cause of death in the United States.

Delgado in Olympics

Fernando Delgado, fencing club advisor at the College of Lake County, will be representing Illinois at the United States Olympic Coaches College July 31 to Aug. 7.

Delgado, a resident of Grayslake, will travel to Colorado Springs, CO to be trained by Olympic coaches in the development of fencing talent. The program is designed to teach coaches from across the country to set up regional camps for young fencers, identify those with potential and develop talent for a stronger national fencing program.

Delgado oversees the 25-member CLC Fencing Club, which has expanded to become a center for fencing both in talent and tournaments. Last year, CLC hosted one state and four local tournaments. Several club members have qualified for the Junior Olympics, Prairie State Games and the National Fencing Championships under Delgado's coaching.

A native of Chicago, Delgado started fencing at age 14 and competed in high school and at the University of Illinois-Chicago, where he was captain of the foil team. He has competed in a variety of tournaments at the national and state level and participated in the Junior Olympics in 1972. Delgado competed in the National Fencing Championship at Northeastern and finished 18th out of 116. He has been advisor to the CLC Fencing Club since 1979.

Golden Bear visits

Nicklaus seeks balance in golf courses

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

If there is any golfer who should know a golfer's mentality, it is Jack Nicklaus.

"Golfers are masochists. They love to punish themselves. This course has a good combination of holes. It will be a challenge but not a backbreaker," Nicklaus said.

Nicklaus came to North Barrington Saturday to dedicate a new golf course at the Wynstone development, a single-family home-golf community being constructed off Rte. 12.

Nicklaus came to the groundbreaking ceremony amidst the usual fanfare and status with which he has been accustomed to over the years. But after more than two decades of being on the leaderboards at golf courses, Nicklaus is spending more time designing and building golf courses rather than defeating them.

Nicklaus praised the site, whose owners include W. Clement Stone. He said the 18-hole course will be more than 7,000 yards long and can be difficult quickly with a tough second hole.

"The variety of holes will give it a real nice feeling," Nicklaus, nicknamed the Golden Bear, said.

Nicklaus said that he is spending more time with his family now that he has cut back on his tournament appearances. When he won the 1986 Masters to become the oldest golfer to win that major tournament at age 46, he announced that he would be a "ceremonial" golfer in the future.

Now 48, he said he still has the drive to compete but his body is now unwilling. "To be the best, you have to be willing to give up everything else" (Continued on Page 21)

WBL's innovations, Express victories leave positive image for new league

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

After watching 40 innings of baseball the previous weekend, it was time for something new to break the mid-summer, mid-drought blues.

Let's see, it has to be something fast-paced, new and exciting.

That's it. The Chicago Express.

And for a baseball breather, the Chicago entry in the World Basketball League Expressly fit the bill.

First, let's discuss the rules, since there are many changes from your ordinary basketball game, even the pick-up variety at your local park.

Overtime

The WBL is for players 6-4 and under. I could tell that would be my kind of basketball league (although I would be more suited for a 5-10 and under league); there are no foul outs - instead when a player reaches six fouls, the other team gets three free throws (that happened once against Fresno; zone defenses, which are used anyway in the NBA are allowed; four 10-minute periods are used; jump balls have made a comeback at quarters and beginning of sudden-death play; a 24-second shot clock; an eight second time line and a 20-6 international rule three point distance.

The Express won both contests last Thursday - a 118-113 overtime win over Fresno and a 113-107 win over Vancouver.

Perhaps the most striking difference between this league and the NBA is that innovative overtime rule. The win over Fresno was the first such extra session win at home, so the public address announcer had to explain the rules: the scoreboard reads 0-0 and the first team to seven points, regardless of the time showing on the clock, wins.

Strong summer showing gives Carmel hope for '89

For those who regularly attend Carmel High School's summer baseball games, it may be best to bring a roster handy.

"We have 25 kids on the roster and we change our lineup every day. We try and get maximum participation from as many kids as possible," Carmel Coach Joe Pudlo said.

And so far this summer the Corsairs are not only gaining at bats and the important experience needed for next spring, but are also gaining wins, too. Carmel has won six of its first seven games.

There are some familiar names on the roster such as pitcher Shawn Chambers is 2-0 and Pudlo said Eric Maloney and Sean McIneney have also pitched well. But junior-to-be Todd Rutledge has also made his mark, and he picked up a win in a game against Buffalo Grove.

Eric Bruksch, Dale Carlson and Ricky and Randy Splitt have all led the Carmel offense. The Splitt twins are also an important part of the Lake Zurich American Legion team, but so far being on two teams has not presented a major problem.

"If they have a big legion game, and as long as we have nine guys, I let them play in the legion game," Pudlo said.

Fox Lake to host semi-pro golf

It may not be as glamorous as the Western Open, but Fox Lake Country Club will be the center of attention for the golfers of the Chicago area July 15.

The Semi-Pro Golf Tour will make a one-day stop at the par 72, 18 hole course. So far, the tournament, in its first summer, has made three stops in the Chicagoland golf courses. Tournament Dir. Dan Urban said he hopes as many as 50 golfers will be competing in Fox Lake.

Winners so far include Delph Gustigus of Palatine and John Kelly of Kildeer. Gustigus won the Poplar Creek tournament with a gross score of 81 and a net score of 72.

Urban said the number of golfers has been increasing at each stop. Urban said there are still openings in the tour for the remaining stops. The season fee has been reduced to $80 and golfers who are interested may contact Urban at (312) 773-7350.

Next stop, Australia!

Gymnasts from the Gym Corner in Peorio will be joining those from the Gymnastics Spot Ltd. in Australia in international exhibitions. Those gymnasts making the trip will include, first row: Trisho Jording; second row Coleen Kohl, Allison Davis and Kathy Brown; third row: Angie Griffith, Nicole Gingrih, Kathy Kopon, Vicki Green and Andree Coon; fourth row: Norbert Bendixen, co-owner of the Gym Corner; Jim Monczok, travel agent with Sure Way Travel; Kim Bendixen, owner of Gym Corner and Jennifer Brown.

Hotels offer special programs for kids

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Like most, I have fond childhood memories of family vacations. But with five kids, all with different ideas of fun, I wonder if my parents enjoyed those trips as much as we did. I'm sure there were times when they wished they could just leave us somewhere and do what they wanted. (That time they forgot me at the Holiday Inn in Detroit was probably a clue.)

Thanks to the demands of baby boomers who now have kids of traveling age, many hotels offer programs allowing the kids to do their thing and the adults to do what they want, too. (Which usually includes getting away from the kids.)

The Lollipop Lounge at Marriott's Orlando World is one example. It's sort of a day care center away from home. It features a playground and playroom, and is staffed by certified professionals.

Marriott's Resort in Panama City, Fla., offers a sort of summer camp called the Alligator Point Gang. Supervised by recreation majors from local colleges, activities include events such as sandcastle building and other outdoor and indoor competitions.

The Hyatt Regency in Scottsdale has something called a Kamp Kachina, which has among its offerings cookie decorating, children's aerobics and even desert jeep safaris.

The Westin Mauna Kea in Hawaii offers a package for children ages 6 to 12 which includes Hawaiian crafts and games, nature walks, shell hunts and boogie-boarding.

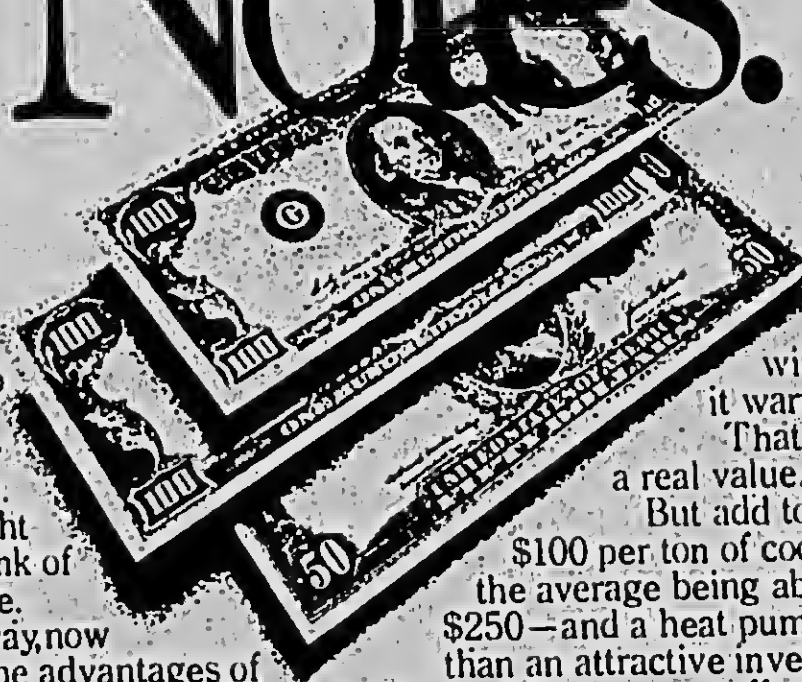

Even Vegas Hotels have something to keep the kids out of mom and dad's hair. The Las Vegas Hilton's Youth Hotel has programs for kids 3 through 18. Separate programs are available for pre-school, elementary-school and teenagers. They even offer a kids' dormitory so you can party all night and know the kids are being well supervised. Kids under three? Babysitting is available for the really little ones.

Buy A Heat Pump And Receive 3 Thank-You Notes.

We like to think of it as a token of our appreciation.

You might prefer to think of it as a rebate.

Either way, now you'll find the advantages of buying a heat pump are almost as great as the advantages of owning one.

After all, a heat pump is the most energy-efficient heating and cooling system available. Designed to work like a central air conditioner in the summer, keeping your home cool.

And work with your furnace in the winter, keeping it warm.

That alone makes it a real value.

But add to that a rebate of $100 per ton of cooling capacity — the average being about 2½ tons, or $250 — and a heat pump becomes more than an attractive investment.

It becomes an affordable way to keep your home comfortable, all year long.

Which is something you'll be thankful for.

Nicklaus' visit

and I did that for more than 20 years," he said.

The holes vary in length and include a 530-yard ninth hole. The tee box there will be through a narrow channel of Oak trees to a downhill landing area.

Most of the holes on the back nine will highlight many natural features: on hole 13, for example, the hole has an unseen marshland and the green sets alongside a lake on the right with a large, overhanging Oak tree on the left. On hole 17, the green was moved to the left to save about a dozen Oak trees.

Nicklaus the golf designer is affiliated with Florida businessman J. Robert Sierra. Their purpose is to create incomparable residential environments—communities with privacy and other features of country club living.

Nicklaus began designing golf courses in the early 1970s with Pete Dye and Desmond Murihead. Since, he has designed more than 60 championship golf courses on five continents. Current Nicklaus-Sierra projects include: The Country Club of the South, an 870-acre golf and country club in Atlanta; The Country Club of Louisiana, an 844-acre community in Baton Rouge, LA.; Bear Creek, an 800-acre golf community which is the site of the nationally televised Skins Game in Murrieta, CA; English Turn, a 650-acre community in New Orleans and permanent home of the USF&G Classic tournament.

How should your average weekend golfers approach such a course?

"Golfers should play a course up to their capabilities," Nicklaus, who was just voted "Golfer of the Century," said.

And with that, it was time for a helicopter ride in order to see just what Nicklaus the golf course designer has in store for those weekend golfers.

Ram runners place at state meet

Several Lake County high school athletes from the Ram Track Club fared well in the Illinois TAC State Track and Field Meet.

Tammy Bourque of Round Lake High School won the high jump and finished third in the 100 meter hurdles. She competed in the 15-16 year-old age group.

School who qualified for the state meet, was third in the long jump and fourth in the 100 and 200 meter dashes in the 17-18 year-old age group.

Steve Hamil of Grayslake High was third in the high jump among 15 and 16 year-olds. Other Grayslake athletes who placed were Bob and Chris Lupori. Bob Lupori was second in the 200 meter hurdles among 13 and 14 year-olds while his sister Chris was fourth in the long jump among 15 and 16 year-olds.

The 4 x 400 relay team of Chris Lupori, Rachel Brooks of Round Lake High, Barb Wunn of Antioch and Borque finished second.

Turnberry making plans for charity golf outing

Final plans are now formulated for "A Day for Charity in the Land They Call Turnberry" to be held at the championship golf course at Turnberry Country Club in Lakewood on Monday, July 18.

This celebrity pro-Am golf gala is the only one of its kind in the midwest and offers the largest of single day purses. Sponsored by the Chicago Bank of Commerce, McIntosh, Ltd., and Safety-Kleen, it is hoped that this charity day will generate $80,000 to benefit the Salvation Army. Founded in 1865, the Salvation Army is an international Christian and charitable organization with widespread practical concern, where 87 percent of each dollar is applied to the needs of humanity.

The event will begin with registration at 10 a.m., followed by a buffet luncheon. At 12:15, 1,000 red helium balloons will be released as "America the Beautiful" is sung by Mrs. Lt. Col. Gary L. Herndon, Dir. of the Women's Services Metropolitan Div. in Chicago. The shotgun start is at 12:30 p.m. There will be 36 teams, each having five members—a celebrity, a professional golfer and three amateurs. The play will be two ball, best ball. After the golf outing, refreshments will be served in the garden room followed by a gourmet dinner and program. Chuck Swirsky, sports director for WGN Radio, will emcee. There will be prizes representing approximately $175,000 to $200,000 and many golfing opportunities to win prizes—some of which are an automobile donated by Benoy Motors in Woodstock; $100,000 to be split between the pro who shoots a hole-in-one and the Salvation Army; and $25,000 will go to the celebrity or amateur who shoots a hole-in-one on the eleventh hole sponsored by Joe Witry, owner of Unlimited Printing and Systems, Inc., in Arlington Heights. The Holiday Inn in Crystal Lake offers $250 to the pro whose tee shot lands closest to the fourteenth hole and a $25 gift certificate to any golfer whose shot lands on the fourteenth green. Every golfer will leave with a significant prize or gift.

This celebrity pro-am attracts many well-known celebrity per-

Dirty campaign tricks

ROUND LAKE—Dirty tricks have started in the Avon Twp. race for mayor. When declared challenger Edward Gueroult went to the Illinois Property Assessment Institute in mid-June he was told a secretary called and cancelled his reservation. Gueroult was moved to attend. The course is required for state certification. Gueroult has no secretary. Supervisor Herman Geary, who is backing the challenger against incumbent Gerald Stan, said this is another in the many attempts to embarrass his office administration.

Long drops lawsuit

ANTIOCH — Antioch Atty. Robert J. Long has dropped his lawsuit against Antioch's Mayor Ray Toft in the name of the Village of Antioch. Long was suing Toft because the village mailing permit was used to mail 7,000 envelopes of County Board candidates Jim Fields and Fred Popp in the primary election. Long said he has dropped the suit because Toft paid the mailing and printing bill for the envelopes. Biller Press, the agent who printed and mailed the envelopes, had already publicly taken blame for making the mistake and filing the wrong permit.

Annexation survey

LAKE VILLA—Survey efforts will be intensified in the most populous areas of Lake Villa Twp. to determine interest in annexing a loosely-defined area known as Liberty Lakes to Lake Villa. Survey results to date are running 50-50, according to those behind the two-year-old effort to either incorporate or annex the 24-square-mile area with 10,000 residents. This has cost the organizers $35,000, which has been raised through broom sales, dances and garage sales. About $8,000 remains to be paid, mostly for appealing to the state and U.S. Supreme Courts a denial by the Lake County Board to incorporate.

Com Ed backs down

VENETIAN VILLAGE—Commonwealth Edison Co. has made overtures to some residents, offering to settle damage claims for appliances, televisions and other electrical devices burned out during a 45-minute power surge on June 15. Upwards of 300 claims totaling $30,000 are now being assembled for a class-action suit. Representatives of a Waukegan law firm retained by the homeowners feel a settlement is imminent in order to avoid poor public relations. The utility initially said it would not honor any claims.

July Fest a go

ROUND LAKE—ST. Joseph Church's July Fest will be a two-day event, without carnival rides, after a near cancellation of this annual fundraiser, due to a quash on a license for amusement rides by the Round Lake Village Board. It will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 16 and 17, on the church grounds at 114 Lincoln Ave.

No water fights?

FOX LAKE—The annual water fight portion of the Fox Lake Fireman's Festival may fall victim to the drought. Fire Chief Stuart Hoehne told the Village Board of Trustees that he would choose to cancel the water fights if village residents were still being asked to conserve water. The board decided not to decide on the issue until July 15 at the latest.

Family Fun Day

LAKE VILLA—Annual Family Fun Day for residents of Lake Villa Twp. will be Sunday, July 10, in the township park at Grand Ave. and Fairfield Rd. The daylong program of fun, activities and competitions, features food, beer and wine priced at 50 cents and soda for 25 cents. An Army helicopter exhibition team will present a demonstration at 3 p.m. Purpose of the event is a low-

Gurnee OK's census

GURNEE —Gurnee Village Board members have approved a special census for later this year. Citing increased growth in the village, the trustees hope the newcomers to town may bring an additional $50,000 in revenues. The village's population at the last census was 9,800.

Study plan

GRAYSLAKE —Grayslake officials are studying the first draft of a proposed comprehensive plan. The plan, prepared by Camiros Ltd. of Grayslake, was discussed by residents and elected officials at a public hearing held at Grayslake Community Room. The draft is first revision of village's comprehensive plan adopted more than 20 years ago. Camiros representatives said the plan should be used as a landmark for future policy decisions.

Community High School graduate Chris Brown, stationed at Scott Air Force Base, nearly made the U.S. Olympic Wrestling team at 149.5 pounds. Brown advanced to a mini-tournament, where he finished seventh.

Welton seeks re-election

GURNEE —Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton and Warren Twp. Supervisor Robert Depke have both announced that they are seeking re-election next April. Welton was first elected mayor of Gurnee in 1974 while Depke has been head of Warren Twp. for more than 25 years.
